Ingrid Dunsworth

The Cake Lady's known for her German cakes and sweets, not just among Haligonians but the Royal Family, too.

By Melissa Buote

The Cake Lady, Seaport Farmers' Market, 1209 Marginal Road

In the Spring, Ingrid Dunsworth—The Cake Lady—met Prince Charles and the Duchess of Cornwall. "We had a good conversation and he said he really enjoyed and appreciated how I decorated and how fresh all my cakes looked." She sent a package to London, and was invited to Highgrove Estate. "It was a highlight of my life," she says. And her cakes are the highlight of many a person's week here in Halifax. "I just like to create good, yummy food. You can make people really happy," she says. "I like the interaction with the customers, too. I like to give and to make things beautiful."

SUPPORT THE COAST

At a time when the city needs local coverage more than ever, we're asking for your help to support independent journalism. We are committed as always to providing free access to readers, particularly as we confront the impact of COVID-19 in Halifax and beyond.
